There are two prayers in the writ petition. First one is to allot to the petitioner one of the seats reserved for NCC quota. Even going by the averments in the writ petition, only two seats are reserved and have already been allotted. The claim raised by the petitioner on the 3rd seat is on the basis of Ext. P2. In view of the provision contained in the prospectus which in clear terms provide that there are only two seats in the particular quota there cannot be a claim for the 3rd seat.

2. In so far as the second prayer is concerned, it is for a direction to allot students to all vacancies in the Self Financing Colleges before 30-9-2007. It is averred in paragraph 6 of the writ petition that even after the second allotment, there are vacancies and those seats should also be filled up.

3. Learned Govt. Pleader, on instructions, submits that in terms of the prospectus and the guidelines, with the allotment of the second batch, the allotment of students to these vacancies is also over. If that be the general guideline in respect of Self Financing Colleges, I see no justification for interference with that issue also. Hence, the second prayer sought for also cannot be granted.

The writ petition fails and is dismissed.
